KYNKYNY’s latest exhibition is an inspired and thought provoking exploration of mysterious, overlapping terrains and shared geographies between humans and nature. Ten leading contemporary artists contemplate our complex relationship with the natural world in these turbulent times of climate upheaval and change. The featured artworks do not depict nature in isolation or as a separate entity to be admired from a distance, but as a sentient, vital force. The continual theme running through the exhibition is the interconnected nature of everything. All living beings are thrust together in a fragile web of life, sometimes sharing the space in tenuous ecosystems fraught with territorial conflicts, and at other times coexisting in states of harmony as they navigate changing habitats and blurred boundaries.
